CITY NEWS

Grant Elgin of Corvallis, formerly a noted O. A. football star, a cousin of Charles F. and Harry W. Elgin, is in Salem for a short visit with his relatives.

Emil Lee and Bert Rue, both prominent hop growers from the Silverton country, were in the city, and disposed of their combined holdings of hops amounting to six car loads through the Oregon Hop Growers' association. They sold at 11 3/4 cents.

A suggestion box has been placed in the Commercial club, whereby it is hoped that members will feel more at liberty to write out their suggestions and drop them in the box. The board of directors solicits suggestions from members.

Cornelius Lehane, one of the well known Irish orators interested in labor will speak this evening at Union Labor hall, at 8 o'clock. It is announced that he will tell the uncensored story of the Irish revolution and the battle of Dublin, as well as other phases of the European war.

Mrs. G. W. Summers of 238 North High street, and Scentor Jones of Washington, who spoke last evening at the opera house, were school mates years ago when living in Bethany, Illinois. They had not seen each other for 20 years and last evening Mrs. Summers called on the senator at the opera house and reminded him of his boyhood days when he lived on the farm and was known as "cotton top."

Here is another hard luck story. Cheese is up one cent a pound. But that is nothing compared to the story that came over the wires last night to the effect that this morning flour would climb another 10 cents a sack. One year ago a sack of the best flour cost $1.65 but those who call for the best will now be taxed $2.35 a sack. Hard wheat was quoted $1.82 a bushel today in Chicago.

A car load of mill work has been shipped by the Spaulding Logging company to Butte, Montana, for the erection of two residences, to be furnished in fire and brick work. The mill has also received a contract for the mill work for a $25,000 school building at Three Forks, Montana. The mill work for the $10,000 Aratta home in Laurelhurst, Portland, will also be supplied by the Spaulding mill.

The Pythian Sisters, with the Knights of Pythias, celebrated a woman's homecoming last evening at their lodge rooms in the McCracken building. The program was presided over by Mrs. Summerville and included a piano solo by Miss Fern Winchell; address by the Rev. F. T. Porter; song by Emmel Summerville; reading by Mrs. Flower; recitation by Miss Martha Shipp; song by Vernon Perry, and a reading by Mrs. Winchell.

Judge P. H. D'Arcy proposes going before the county court representing the pioneers who for 50 years have lived in precinct No. 1 and asking that the old number be restored. Up to last year ever since Salem has been a city lot 1, block 1, in precinct No. 1, and the judge has all these years lived on lot 1, block 1, in precinct No. 1, but during his absence last year, precinct No. 1 was made precinct No. 9.

Ralph Emmons, son of W. W. Emmons, of the Scotch Woolen Mills, was thrown from his bicycle this morning by George Clerk, who was riding a motorcycle on State street near Nineteenth. Emmons was picked up by Clark and Mr. Radcliff, who happened along in an automobile. Clark wished to take him to the hospital where his injuries, if any, could be dressed but Mr. Radcliff decided to take the boy home to his mother, which was done. No bones were broken and no blood spilled, for which all concerned say they are thankful. Dr. Fisher was called but on examination found no injury. No exact cause for the collision is given.

O. J. Schei Opens Store

In Patton Building

Another up to date store opened today for business in Salem—the genteel furnishing business of O. J. Schei, in the location formerly occupied by B. H. Mosher in the Patton building on State street.

Mr. Schei is formerly from Minnesota, but for the past six years has been in the mercantile business in Portland. After looking over the west for a location, he decided on Salem as offering the best opportunity for a high class genteel furnishing and clothing business. His line will also include everything for working men.

Frank K. DeWitt, formerly with Winthrop Hammond, will be associated with the store. Mr. Schei has installed entirely new fixtures and cases and the store is equipped on the latest of modern ideas for a men's store.

CARRANZA TROOPS STAMPEDED BY VILLA

Bandit Leader Works Strategy and Whips General Ozuna

Washington, Oct. 25.—The defeat of Carranzista General Ozuna with three thousand men by Villistas in the battle at Palomas several days ago is described in a dispatch from General Bell at El Paso, forwarded today by General Funston: "A prominent official from Chihuahua City says that one of the commanding officers of the Ozuna army told him the following story of the battle of Palomas: "General Ozuna had about 3,000 men and they had taken out eleven trains loaded with provisions, ammunition and troops besides the cavalry. When near Palomas, Villa sent 2000 men to intercept them and gave battle for a few minutes, retreating and fighting as they retreated. Then Villa sent another detachment behind Ozuna's forces, cut the railway and telegraph and also attacked Ozuna's rear. "General Ozuna followed the retreating Villistas into a canyon in the foothills and there Villa attacked. Salazar had stationed about every hundred yards for more than two miles, about twenty men and as Villa attacked their front, Salazar attacked their flank which caused a stampede, many of them throwing away their arms as they ran like scared sheep. The Villistas killing or capturing more than 1,000 of them and also capturing all their trains and provisions. "The Carranzistas fled to Fresno, where they tried to make a stand, but Villa drove them into Chihuahua and had his headquarters only five miles outside of the city. "When the train left Chihuahua yesterday morning at 9 a. m. other passengers said Villa was camped just outside the city, and that his campfires were visible Sunday night—and that the people are panic stricken. Passengers say that General Haycott had arrived with four trains of troops and that it was reported that they were 14 more trains on the way to Chihuahua, which were due to arrive last night and today."

This month is a means of estimating business, the people living in and around the city are trading at home more than one year ago. Every six months, the postoffice officials require that a close record be kept of the parcel post business for the first half of the month. During the first half of October one year ago, the Salem postoffice delivered 6118 packages, and for the first half of this month, only 3623 were delivered. The packages received by people living in Salem were less than a year ago.

For the first half of October, 1915, the city deliveries numbered 5253, while this year, for the same time in October, the number was 4207.

FAILED TO SWIM BAY San Francisco, Oct. 25.—Miss Wally Mahn, local mermaid, failed to swim across San Francisco bay today.

Diving off Pier 27, Miss Mahn swam for one hour and 35 minutes. She was taken from the water two miles south of Goat Island, a distance of five miles from where she started.

Miss Mahn swam far out of the course Miss Nell Schmidt piled when she swam across the bay explaining she failed to make the swim.

In the next three weeks Miss Mahn intends to make another attempt.

SOUND STEAMER AGROUND

Seattle, Wash., Oct. 25.—With a large passenger list aboard, the Pacific Coast Steamship company's liner Governor went aground shortly before noon today, off Point Gray, near the entrance to Vancouver Sound, while en route from Seattle to San Francisco.

The Governor ran aground during a heavy fog. Officers of the steamship company say they expect to float the liner at high tide without damage. No passengers were reported lost.
